CHATHAM COUNTY BUDGET PROCESS

Renee Dickson stated that the preliminary needs assessment is the first step in Chatham County's annual budget process which shows revenue and expenditure trends; that this phase of the process is designed to facilitate discussions between the public, the Chatham County Board of Commissioners, and the County staff about priorities for the coming fiscal year and to help reach consensus on important goals and parameters for preparation of the final budget; that all County Departments which participate in the County budget process, with the exception of schools and non-profit agencies, prepare requests which are included in the document; that following preparation of document, public meetings are held to receive public input to gain input on priorities for the upcoming budget; that based upon the information contained in the preliminary needs assessment and the public input sessions, the Board of Commissioners will establish priorities and guidelines for preparation of the final budget which will begin in March; that from there, the process follows most other jurisdictions, in that the departments prepare requests, they go through the County Manager's Office, and Manager's recommended budget is prepared from this and submitted to the Board of Commissioners; that the public has another opportunity to participate in the process in June when the final public hearing is held. She highlighted parts of the budget on an overhead projector and explained that most of the items can be found in the preliminary needs assessment unless indicated otherwise.

Public Hearing

Chatham County Preliminary Budget Process: Public Hearing to receive public comment between the Public, Chatham County Board of Commissioners, and the County staff regarding priorities for the upcoming budget

David Scott, 501 Eddie Perry Road, Pittsboro, NC, stated that there is real need for recreational opportunities for the young people of Chatham County. He stated that more good places to play soccer within the County are needed; that there is a lot of interest in soccer which is a good activity for kids; and that they are looking for support in getting some new fields which would be a terrific investment for the future.

Joan Cunningham, 644 Tanager Lane, Siler City, requested funds to support Chatham County child sexual abuse services. She stated that this program is currently in effect and being operated through the District Attorney's office; that it has been funded for the last one and one-half years through a grant from the Governor's Crime Commission; that this is a difficult crime to investigate and prosecute because there is a child victim and a perpetrator who represented to that child a person who should have been a caretaker and one who provided a safe environment; that there are close to thirty sex abuse investigations per year; that this is a very inexpensive program; that their budget request includes a salary for a coordinator at a master's level and one with two years experience, travel expenditures and other supplies; that for a very minor investment, there will be a major return in children and youth in the community.

Doug Stuart, Detective with the Siler City Police Department, Siler City, NC, stated that he has been investigating child sexual abuse for the last three years in Siler City; that the children in these offenses often have a very difficult time dealing with this type of offense; that this service has provided someone to follow the case from the initial onset through the prosecution stage through to the therapy stage; that child sexual abuse in Chatham County is on the cutting edge for the State of North Carolina; that he asks the Commissioners to consider the seriousness of this as they make this consideration.

Miriam Infinger, 495 Log Barn Road, Pittsboro, NC, Development Community and Outreach Coordinator for Family Violence and Rape Crisis, spoke on behalf of her agency to request the County incorporate into its final needs assessment those needs that are currently being addressed by her agency. She stated that she believes her agency provides a unique service in the County that will effect the residents in the County, both in terms of short and long-term welfare; that they need assistance from the County to help provide the services in dealing with violence and abuse.

Ray Greenlaw, 2 Jordan Drive, Pittsboro, NC, complimented the staff on the format, content, and availability of the preliminary needs assessment. He stated that he was excited about the possibility of seriously looking into performance budgeting for the County; that he applauds the first step in adding the priorities and outcome objectives included in the draft; that he suggests the Commissioners look at outcome measures rather than putting together a budget that gets national recognition; that he suggests improved efficiency in management by all departments of resources allocated in the budget; that in the area of utilities, he hopes that the outcomes will reflect the timely completion of authorized capital projects and if they are coming in on time and within budget.

PLANNING AND ZONING

Public Hearings

Chatham County Subdivision Regulations: Public Hearing to receive public comment on proposed amendments to Section 4 of the Chatham County Subdivision Regulations to allow preliminary review to consist of soils evaluation by certified soil scientist

Larry Hicks, 128 Persimmon Hill, Pittsboro, NC, asked if changing the current regulation would : 1) maintain or improve service to the County; 2) continue to ensure or enhance public environmental protection. He stated that he was not opposed to a regulation change, provided there is reason and these two conditions can be met; that growth in the County continues to accelerate; that a County-wide sewer system is not feasible; that County water will continue to be slow in coming and will be expensive; that unless the County continues to strengthen its review process and regulations to protect its groundwater resources, costly sewer and water systems will be required; that citizen tax dollars cannot afford this nor can their health be compromised.

Bruce Raymond, 127 Persimmon Hill, Pittsboro, NC, stated he was concerned regarding the actual wording of the County Subdivision Regulations; that if a certified soil scientist reviews and signs the preliminary plat concerning the reasonability of the design, does it mean that it will meet the laws, rules, and regulations for septic tank usage; that if that is true, then why not change the rules to state exactly that; that the words “certified” and “licensed” mean that this is with the State of North Carolina; that Step 19 on page 30 states that it is recommended that the developer have the local health department do a site inspection; that he thinks this should be changed to “required” to have the local health department do a site inspection; and that in the certification regulations, it should state that it “meets” rather than it has been “reviewed”.

Marian Norton, 8481 NC Hwy. #902, Pittsboro, NC, questioned who is a certified soil scientist and where one could be found. She also questioned whether the current subdivision regulations allow the County health department to issue authorization for waste water system construction the same time they issue the improvements permit as mentioned in State laws because the subdivision regulations say that no office or agent for the County may issue permits for the construction of any building or structure located on an authorized entry connection or construction of any public or private facilities for services to the lot or any other division of land; that she feels that there needs to be a more thorough process to make sure that the land is not sprinkled with septic systems that might damage the water systems.

Request by Frank Bolton for a Conditional Use Heavy Industrial District and a Conditional Use Permit: Public Hearing to receive public comment on a request by Frank Bolton for a Conditional Use Heavy Industrial District and a Conditional Use Permit for a truck terminal, repair shop, hauling, storage yard, and recycling industry on 15 acres of the John R. Calloway, Sr. property on the north side of S. R. #1011 in Cape Fear Township

The Chairman administered the oath/affirmation to those who wished to make public comment.

Cindy Bland, PO Box 264, Pittsboro, NC, attorney representing Mr. Bolton, urged the Commissioners to make a similar finding as that for a roofing granules plant approved in 1995; that at that time, the Commissioners found the site suitable for a heavy industrial tract with a conditional use for the granule plant; that asked for support for this project; that there are two functions for this particular plan, a truck maintenance center and a pallet recycling facility located on the rear of the property; that the facility will be improved by Mr. Bolton which exceeds one million dollars; that the facility will employ approximately five people; that the movement of the truck operations of approximately twelve trucks, will be housed in Chatham County, and the tax base will also move to the County; that Mr. Bolton operates about a half mile from this site, in Wake County, a mill which produces mulch and chips; this particular facility would allow certain functions of the mill site to be moved; that there are setbacks, natural buffers and there will be a planted buffer on the east side of the property; and that this is an appropriate heavy industrial district from which Chatham County will see a tremendous amount of operations improvement.

Nathan Williams, PO Box 127, Holly Springs, NC, stated that he had no objection to Mr. Bolton's request, but that he was concerned about the road which needed to be placed on the property so that land owners of the back property could get out.

Dewey Seagroves, 6855 Old US #1, New Hill, NC, adjacent property owners, stated that he was concerned about a major trucking center located in the middle of eight homes; that there is a fresh water pond about which he is concerned about diesel fuel seepage; and that he feels that it will have a negative effect on property values.

Harold Gunter, Route One, Box 290, New Hill, NC, adjacent property owner, stated that he knows little about what will transpire on the land; that he is concerned about noise; that he is interested in what kind of "mess" is going to be on the property; that his entrance is very nice and he wants to be assured that it will remain nice; that this has been his home for many years; and that he trusts that restrictions will be place on the property to assure that Mr. Bolton will be a good neighbor.

Preliminary Plat Review

Request for Preliminary Approval of Singing Hills Subdivision: Consideration of a request for preliminary approval of Singing Hills Subdivision consisting of 16 lots on 81.07 acres off Jay Shambley Road (S. R. #2167) in Hickory Mountain Township

The motion carried five (5) to zero (0).

MID-CAROLINA PRIVATE INDUSTRY COUNCIL PRESENTATION

Mid-Carolina Private Industry Council Presentation: Presentation by Mid-Carolina Private Industry Council regarding One-Stop Career Centers and Federally mandated changes in Employment and Training programs, particularly Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA)

Shirley Wood, Mid-Carolina Private Industry Council/Workforce Development Board Chairperson, stated the name "Private Industry Council" (PIC) has been changed to Workforce Development Board; that the board's duties have expanded greatly; that it is the desire of the Governor's Workforce Development Commission to establish One-Stop Career Centers over the State; that centers are envisioned in each county developing a one-stop system using electronic networking between the counties; that North Carolina is preparing to implement a statewide network of local one-stop career centers as one element of a multi-faceted strategy to reshape dramatically the governance, management, and delivery of workforce development services; that under the leadership of Governor James B. Hunt, the State has embarked on five simultaneous systemic change initiatives related to workforce development; that taken as a whole, they will revitalize the way services are delivered to citizens; that plans include: 1) development of a comprehensive, integrated and effective State workforce development system; 2) development of an integrated local delivery system; 3) strengthening of local governance; 4) reform welfare; and 5) reform education by developing a comprehensive approach to school-to-work; that local governance is a particularly important issue; that North Carolina plans to transform the Private Industry Councils that oversee the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) programs into Workforce Development Boards (WDBs); that these initiatives reflect key elements of the North Carolina Commission on Workforce Preparedness' strategic plan for building a high performance workforce in North Carolina which was adopted in November 1994; that new legislation will likely take effect on July 1, 1998 with an option for governors to implement the new bill July 1, 1997; that plans are being made to visit the first site in North Carolina, and an invitation will be extended to the Chairman of the Board and the County Manager (or their designate) from each of the four counties to participate. She invited the Commissioners to attend their meetings held every other month, the second Thursday night of the month, with the next meeting to be held in March usually in Lillington, NC.

The Chairman called for a five minute break.

CHATHAM COUNTY SCHOOLS

Survey of Public School Facility Needs: Consideration of a survey of public school facility needs

Dr. Larry Mabe, Superintendent of Chatham County Schools, stated that the School Capital Construction Study Commission, authorized by the 1995 General Assembly, is charged with conducting a comprehensive study of public school facilities in North Carolina; that the Commission must identify the needs, develop criteria for ranking the identified needs, examine the roles the State and the counties must play in providing funds to meet these needs, and develop a long-term plan for funding the identified needs in an equitable and adequate manner; that the work must be completed in order to make the report to the General Assembly by April 15, 1996; that the information provided is based on estimates based on projected enrollment; that they are ten year estimates of needs; that a compilation of cost estimates has been provided as recommended by the Department of Public Instruction and the Division of School Planning; that a lot of the cost involved deals with the development of additional renovations, roof repairs and replacements, plans for buildings, demolition for buildings (if necessary), additional classroom space that would be necessary to replace mobile units, labs, resource rooms, other school facilities, normal regular classrooms, vocational/educational classrooms, media centers, cafeterias, major and minor renovations, computer cabling, water systems, and sewer systems. He stated that the local Board of Education has completed their part of the process, and that in order for the Commission to accomplish its tasks in such a short time, it is crucial that all boards of county commissioners submit the approved surveys to the Department of Public Instruction for the Commission no later than January 15, 1996.
